We recommend that our students pay attention to the following issues so they can register for the 2023-2024 Fall Semester (I. Term) without any problems.

- If you are in the 2nd semester of the master's program or the 3rd semester of the doctoral program as of the 2023-2024 Fall (I.) semester, you must have completed your advisor assignment process in the program no. 71. Otherwise, the SYSTEM WILL NOT ALLOW YOU TO REGISTER. It is enough to do this process once.

- During the interactive registration, you must register a course and have the approval of the advisor.

- If you do not have your advisor's approval, your registration will be considered incomplete, and the SYSTEM WILL NOT ALLOW YOU TO REGISTER DURING THE ADD-DROP PERIOD. There will be no subsequent registration with a petition.

- During the add-drop period, only students who have graduated from a master's program are allowed to register for a doctorate. If you have not registered in interactive registrations, registration will not be possible during this period. There will be no subsequent registration with a petition.

- In order to count the courses you have taken in the "NI" status while in the Scientific Preparation program, you must submit your petition (using the petition and course substitution forms available at http://iam.metu.edu.tr/en/forms) before the start of the add-drops in your first semester of the program that you started.

- Master's with thesis program students can take IAM 590 "Graduate Seminar" from their 3rd semester.

- Doctoral program students can take IAM 690 "Graduate Seminar for Ph.D. Students" from their 3rd semester.

- After completing the advisor assignment process in the program no. 71, master's with thesis program and doctoral program students must take both 800/900 and 500/600 coded thesis study courses (500 and 800 for master's, 600 and 900 for doctorate) during each registration.

- In accordance with the graduate regulations, it is compulsory for all students who start the master's with/without thesis program and doctorate program to take the 9700698 "Research Methods and Ethics" course with the status of COMPULSORY.

- Students who have taken the 9700698 “Research Methods and Ethics” course in the master's program must apply to the Institute with a petition and a transcript before the end of the add-drops in order to be exempted.

- Those who want to transfer from the non-thesis program to master's with thesis program should submit their official applications at the latest by Friday, September 22, 2023, in line with the information on our website (http://iam.metu.edu.tr/transferring-non-thesis-option-thesis-option-within-program). They are required to submit their applications using their e-mail addresses with a METU extension. If their applications are accepted after the evaluation, these students MUST REGISTER FOR COURSES 500/600 AND 800/900 AT ADD-DROP PERIOD.
- In order to determine the demand and the capacity of the courses offered in 2023-2024 Fall Semester, we ask all students to fill this survey. Link: https://forms.gle/GAwtjpgrsXaHDmat6

- You can follow the changes made in the curriculum of our institute's departments at http://iam.metu.edu.tr/en/curricula.

We wish you a successful term.
